MY JOURNEY TO THE C-SUITE

REFLECTIONS & HIGHLIGHTS

When I joined the Journey to the C-Suite (JTC) program, I was at a point of reflection in my career. Excellence has always been one of my values, and I knew I had untapped potential – yet I often felt like I was in a comfort zone, uncertain how to bridge the gap between where I was and the opportunities I envisioned.

The program stretched me in ways I didn't expect. I've learned that leadership is not about titles or positions – it begins with leading yourself. True influence flows from character, trust, and relationships. Skills open doors, but values sustain impact.

JTC has given me the tools to sharpen my executive presence, the confidence to articulate my value, and the network to grow alongside other ambitious professionals. Most importantly, it has given me the clarity that leadership is never a solo journey – it's about preparing, empowering, and uplifting those who come after us.

Turning Points in My Leadership Journey

- The Lapel Moment with Francis Kamulegeya: When Francis pinned the JTC lapel on each of us, it wasn't just symbolic – it was a passing of the torch to the next generation of leaders. His reminder that all leadership begins with self-leadership remains my cornerstone lesson.

- Becoming the First Cohort President: This role stretched me to lead with service, resilience, and courage. It was both humbling and transformative, sharpening my ability to represent and empower others.

IN THIS JOURNEY

SPELLBINDERS

Jesse Ainebyona

Gave us endless golden nuggets and taking into the most feared aspect of public speaking. He emphasized that what doesn't stretch doesn't grow you.

Robert Mutebi

Showed us the broad spectrum of skills and mindset needed to thrive at the C-suite, from business acumen to innovation.

JOURNEY WITH TEAM NGUVU

It has been such a privilege to walk this journey with my phenomenal Team NGUVU, The First, Fearless and Future ready

Team NGUVU wasn't just a group; it was a powerhouse of ideas, determination, and collaboration. Together, we tackled our assignments with focus and excellence, pushing each other to think deeper, do better, and deliver work we could all be proud of. Every discussion, late-night brainstorming session, and presentation reminded us that leadership is amplified through teamwork.

You truly lived up to the spirit of NGUVU; strength, resilience, and unity in motion. Thank you for your commitment, your brilliance, and for making this experience so rewarding. I am deeply proud of what we achieved together and the standard we set as a team.

GRATITUDE FOR RELATIONSHIPS & FACILITATORS

One of the greatest gifts of JTC has been the relationships built along the way – the shared growth, the accountability, and the deep bonds with peers who, like me, are striving for more. These connections have been as transformative as the sessions themselves, reminding me that leadership is forged in community.

I'm deeply grateful to the facilitators who poured into us with such generosity – sharing knowledge, challenging our thinking, and guiding us with wisdom. In a special way, I want to thank Jesse, who not only shared powerful nuggets of wisdom but also pushed us to become better public speakers. Those lessons will carry forward into every stage of my leadership journey.

FINAL REFLECTION

My biggest growth from this journey is realizing that leadership is about preparing others, building environments where people can thrive, and ensuring visions live beyond the individuals who start them. Organizations shouldn't collapse when leaders leave – they should rise stronger because of the foundations those leaders built.

As I step forward, I feel leadership ready – ready for elevated opportunities, ready to keep stretching and learning, and ready to solve big challenges with courage and clarity. More than ever, I am committed to continuous growth, not just for myself, but for the impact I can make in others

FOOD FOR THOUGHT:

If leadership is for the ready, what are you doing today to prepare yourself for tomorrow's opportunities?
